Glenn,

Here is what I can provide on ENRC. This is not comprehensive but it's a start and should be more than enough to keep the client happy:

1. Detailed report on the internal investigations into corruption at the highly profitable Kazakh subsidiary, SSGPO, of ENRC which have been going on since 2007 and is ongoing.
2. Copies of the reports by the three major UK law firms into the corruption and allegations of destruction of documents and cover-up by senior ENRC officials in Kazakhstan and Russia
3. Copy of the e-mail sent by a senior employee and whistleblower of SSGP and separate internal memo which alleged that members of the Trio benefitted from this corruption. This e-mail and memo was sent to Kazakh General Prosecutor and sparked the investigations which were commissioned by the Audit Committee and overseen by a new law firm
4. Copy of the e-mail sent by Paul Judge, a director and aspiring chairman of ENRC, to other directors and company officials in June 2011 which disclosed the three reasons why he thought that Mashkevich should not be the next chairman. This e-mail includes other private comments by Judge
5. Details of thousands of other internal ENRC documents - 2004-2008 - which reveal the hidden assets of the Trio and new material on the Belgian investigation and range of disclosures about internal workings of the UK subsidiary, Alferon Management
6. Names and details of disgruntled former ENRC executives and directors
7. Copy of private resignation letter by Ken Olisa, former ENRC director
8. Current situation regarding the internal corruption investigation, involvement of SFO and FSA, board meetings and internal politics of the company
9. Detailed accounts of the private and up-to-date thoughts and activities of Paul Judge, senior ENRC director
10. Detailed account of the private and up-to-date thoughts and activities of Richard Sykes, former ENRC director

There is more to come, but this could easily cover the first two months, although we need to talk

I look forward to hearing from you

Very best

Mark
